

Private Residence, SW London

Datum was approached by London-based Interior designer David Bentheim to carry out a refurbishment of an impressive ground floor apartment in south west London for a private client.

The contract consisted of stripping out the existing kitchen, doors, frames and flooring throughout, before carrying out some complex structural work to enlarge the size of the door openings to create a number of full height double door openings.

The 10-week project included all plastering, decorating, plumbing and electrical installation; it involved replacing 250mm high skirting to match the existing as well as supplying and installing bespoke joinery and door linings to receive 'Crittle' metal framed and glazed doors throughout. A new solid oak floor was also laid throughout the flat.

Welcome

Hello and welcome to the latest issue of Data.

The first half of 2017 has been extremely busy for us with a diverse range of projects for both new and existing clients. We are delighted to be continuing our 20-year association with Liberty London, recently completing their new stationery department.

Other projects include the new marketing suite at Ballymore's luxury new residential development, Good Luck Hope, in London's Docklands. This development will deliver 804 new homes, 2,000sq m of commercial space, 235sq m of educational space, the restored Grade II listed Orchard Dry Dock and follows on from our work with Ballymore last year at Embassy Gardens and The Wardian developments.

Over the last 6 months we have been working on the roll-out of new retail stores for iSmash, a hi-tech retail brand which provides a fast turnaround repair service for smartphones and tablets. We have recently completed five stores in central London and are currently on site at Manchester Arndale Centre as iSmash starts to expand outside London. We have collaborated closely with iSmash developing their retail concept and will bring you more news of these projects, and this dynamic fast-growing retailer, in the next issue of Data.

During the last couple of months we have also received our annual audits and renewal of our accreditations for ISO 9001 quality management system and Forestry Stewardship Council which underpin why our clients can depend on us to deliver, time and time again.

As always, I look forward to answering any questions or providing more information about the services we offer.

New Stationery Department for Liberty London

We were delighted when we were appointed to fit-out the new Stationery Department on the ground floor at Liberty London, which had to be completed in just 10 days,

In order to maintain customer access from the main store entrance on the corner of Great Marlborough Street, a temporary trading area was set up on the back of our hoarding as the internal partitions — that formed storage areas behind the company's famous window displays — were removed to increase the trading area. The additional floor area received new stone tiles, with a rustic period appearance, which were let in to the existing timber floor that was retained.

An original floor-to-ceiling stone fireplace was uncovered during the strip-out stage, which Liberty London decided to retain, reflecting an important part of the building's heritage. The stonework was cleaned and the fireplace now forms an impressive feature in the department.

New perimeter display panelling and shelving was installed, together with a number of individual pieces of period furniture added as display tables.

Commenting on the project, which was completed on schedule, David Round of Datum said: "We were delighted with the completed scheme, which has created a new, fresh interior that remains sympathetic to the fine architecture of this magnificent and unique building."
